Compliments of

HARTSHORN'S BABY PRIMER,

486 BROADWAY, N. Y.

THE NURSE, THE BABY, AND THE SHADE ROLLER.

[A moral story, founded on fact; exquisitely worded, and so true and pure, that you may place it in the hands of your youngest child, with no qualm of conscience, or shudder of doubt. Our notorious candor compels us, however, reluctantly to admit, that this dainty literary bon-bon conceals (?) an advertisement, as the amber-hued jelly of childhood's joyous days concealed the business-like rhubarb.]

Does the nurse take care of the baby?

Oh, yes, the nurse does take care of the baby. See how kind the nurse is to the little baby. She lets the baby play with the Shade Roller. Is she not a good nurse?

Does the baby play with the Shade Roller?

Upholstery Goods,

Oh, yes, the baby loves to play with the HARTSHORN SHADE ROLLER. And, oh, see, little children, how the Hartshorn Roller loves to play with the baby. Is not that a good Shade Roller?

Will the Hartshorn Roller carry babies up in the air?

Oh, no, little ones, that is hyperbole. That is to show, even to infants, how strong the Hartshorn Roller is made, and that it will do any work your papa or mamma wants it to.

Sometimes wicked men say Hartshorn's Rollers "fly up."

Why do they say that?

Because they have to get sticks and brooms to make theirs go up.

Will theirs STAY up?

No! they often do not STAY up. Is not that sad, little children?

Hartshorn's Rollers always will go up.

Will they stay up?

They will always stay up. They do not have weights or cords to interfere with mamma's window drapery. They ALWAYS work just the same way, and if ever one should not work JUST RIGHT, the dealer will give mamma another.

"WHO SELLS HARTSHORN'S ROLLERS?"

My little darlings, EVERY REALLY TRULY GOOD DEALER SELLS THEM; your mamma could tell you that.
